Jared Kat Mizera is a man who knows hockey. He knows the game inside and out, from the strategies to the players to the business side of things. And he's put all of that knowledge to work as the General Manager of the Las Vegas Sidewinders, one of the most successful teams in the Western Hockey League (WHL).

Mizera's journey to the WHL began in his hometown of Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, Canada. He played hockey from a young age, and by the time he was a teenager, he was one of the top prospects in the province. He was drafted by the WHL's Saskatoon Blades in 1997, and he spent the next four seasons playing for the team.

After his playing career, Mizera stayed involved in hockey as a coach and scout. He worked with the Blades for several years before joining the Sidewinders in 2010. As General Manager, Mizera has been responsible for all aspects of the team's operations, from player personnel to business development.

Under Mizera's leadership, the Sidewinders have become one of the most successful teams in the WHL. They have won two league championships in the past five years, and they have been a perennial contender for the Ed

Chynoweth Cup. Mizera has also been named the WHL's Executive of the Year twice.

Mizera's success as a General Manager is due in large part to his leadership, passion, and vision for the team. He is a strong believer in developing young players, and he has a knack for finding hidden gems. He is also a passionate advocate for the Las Vegas community, and he is committed to making the Sidewinders a positive force in the city.

Mizera's vision for the Sidewinders is to create a team that is not only successful on the ice but also a positive force in the community. He wants the Sidewinders to be a team that people can be proud of, both on and off the ice.

Mizera is well on his way to achieving his vision. The Sidewinders are one of the most successful teams in the WHL, and they are also one of the most popular teams in Las Vegas. Mizera is a big reason for that success, and he is a major part of the future of the Las Vegas Sidewinders.
